CRUSADER

FOREWORD

There are certain aesthetic values which bind all men together. Despite centuries old prejudice, despite racial differences, every day men unite because they realize that only in unity can they achieve their common goals. Witness the Ecumenical Council, The Common Market, The World Council of Churches, and especially the United States. Witness also Norfolk Catholic High. For here, eight hundred diverse students strive together to further the interests and increase the honor of NCHS. What is it that allows this phenomenon? Nothing less than the almost tangible unity that permeates our very halls. It is this unity that we shall capture, scrutinize, and praise in the '63 Crusader.

OUR NEW PRINCIPAL, Fr. Hendrick, listens as Roger Elliot chairman of the Freshman Orientation program, tells his side of the story.

SANDRA SAMPLE passes judgement on two freshmen during a session of Senior court. Lawyer Harry Alm is all sympathy for his clients.

Freshman orientation

THE ERECTION OF THE FENCE financed by the Athletic Association and the bleachers loaned by the USN drew the attention of many of the Freshmen and Seniors.

With September came many things: Fr. Hendrick, yearbooks, beautiful weather and the horde of strange little creatures called freshmen. Managing to survive the orientation period, in one piece, they, along with the rest of the student body, were faced with a great shock—report cards!

By November things were back to normal and the month was climaxed by the crowning of our Homecoming Queen, Agnes DeHart.

SEPTEMBER

THE '62 YEARBOOKS finally arrived. Karen Martineau, Charlene Garcia, Kathleen Harrold, Kay Horton, Gale

REVEREND RICHARD BURKE, Superintendent of Schools, congratulates Father Frank Hendrick in the latter's new office as Principal of Norfolk Catholic High. Father Burke, as a former Catholic High principal, will be an understanding and helpful administrator.

Citizenship is based on knowledge of the responsibilities of leadership.

The Student Council of Norfolk Catholic High School is a source of experience in the fundamentals of representative government.

Fulfilling public duty at a student level prepares an individual for the adult level of civic responsibility. This student council serves as a means of governing and managing student activities. With today's demands for communication between schools and other institutions, the student council is an effective bridge for relations with other schools and with businesses somehow involved with the school or its organizations. Daily representation of the ideals of a school gives an individual a feeling of responsibility and dignity which in turn raises that person's ideals. The good reputation of a school is built and perpetuated by its youthful leaders; its achievements and potential are determined by their efforts to fulfill the purpose for which it stands.

MARY KAY COWAN, GARY DZIKOWSKI and ANN COWAN find leadership a responsibility as well as an honor.

JUNIORITES ANTICIPATING next year's "Senior-ity" are now headed by Ronnie Gambardella, Jay May, Mary Lawler, George Wilson, Mildred Coughlin, Ad Hagan and Judy Magee.

CLIMBING SLOWLY up the academic ladder, the Sophomores are led by Joanne Serlich, Susan Cote, Karen Mayan, Wayne Hackenworth, Paul Rosensteel, Tim Keogh, Ken McDaniels, Edwin Booth, Steve Matika and Joseph Green.

AT THE "BOTTOM OF THE LADDER" we find the Freshman officers George Knight, Andrew Terry, Barbara Fitzpatrick, Marilyn Fisher, Michael Beatty, Marc Dzikowski, James Rieke, Larry Hotchkiss, and Donald Crutsinger.

AFTER A LONG DAY'S WORK still more has to be done at a weekly Key Club meeting as Richard Barret, Greg Dreyer, David Zofchak, Tom McPartland, Carl Ward and Father Hamlet listen attentively.

TOM McPARTLAND EXPRESSES the organization, purpose, function, and aim of the Key Club, as he addresses the student body at the Inter-Club Council assembly.

A CONCENTRATED TEAM OF EXPERTS were Treasurer Pete DiDomenico, Secretary Louis Tinaro, Vice-President Tom McPartland, President Joe Sever and the moderator, Father Hamlet.

The Key Club of Norfolk Catholic High School, together with Key Club International sends forth its call: to Fulfill Freedom's Challenge. Our service organization carries this ideal out by strengthening spiritual growth, preserving our common ideals and heritage, and putting democracy on the offensive. Projecting the Key Club into the future, it inspires intelligent leadership by its members, stresses higher moral standards, and promotes mental and physical fitness. This unique organization not only provides services for the school and community, but also molds men out of boys, making them capable of being our future politicians, business leaders, or professional men. In the years to come, our Key Club will continue to serve its members, school, and community.

HOECOMING QUEEN AGNES DEHART and Princess Ann Romeo are well escorted by Key Clubbers Joe Sever and Burt Prestridge at the annual Homecoming game and festivities.

OUR GANG! The members of the '62-'63 Key Club were: First Row: R. Etheridge, P. Rosensleel, D. Zofchak, L. Tinaro, M. McMullen, R. Barrett, T. Keogh, R. Gambardella, A. Hagan, R. Elliot, P. DiDomenico. Second row: F. Stant, G. Dzikowski, R. Silkey, J. Sever, P. Donovan, T. McPartland, G. Wilson, G. Dreyer, and C. Ward.

Practice and determination. Upon these qualities is built a football team. Our school's team this year was composed of 33 boys each who possessed these qualities. But, not only practice and determination are needed. There must be someone to mold these players, all individuals and in that respect different, into a uniformly, well-working machine. Such a man is Al Bruno—the NCHS football coach.

The entire season was a reflection on Mr. Bruno. The team was highly regarded and with good reason. Not only on the field but off, the players exhibited the qualities instilled by their coach, school, and parents.

TOUCHDOWN! The expressions in Larry Carr's and Coach Bruno's faces tell the story — completely.

INJURY STRUCK HARD this year, crippling our co-captain Joey Caprio. Nevertheless, Joey was on hand to give advice to Jay May, gleaned from his three years' experience.

Efficiency

THE SCHOOL DIETICIAN, Mrs. Ruby Warren, plans the week's luncheon menu from her supply of government surplus.

MRS. WARREN'S COMPETENT STAFF consisting of Dorothy Askew, Jean Lewis, Mary Reid, Maggie Whittaker, Gerthena Smith prepare one of her nutritious meals.

CHECKING THE PROFITS, Sister Kathleen Mary glows over the success of the stationery store.

and enthusiasm

ONLY ONE OFFICER, President Billy Wurzel, is in favor of posting a "pick-up-your-trash" reminder. The others, J. Cahill, S. Piscitelli, and D. Wurzel probably realize that they are the ones who will be stuck with k. p. duty.

The Canteen Club, founded last year to manage the school's stationery store, renders an impressive service to Norfolk Catholic and its students. Members of the club operate the store conveniently located at the school's "most-used" entrance. Suppliers of almost every thing in the stationery line—at times even at bargain prices—this club is a definite asset to school life.

CHARLES CAMERON SPENDS sixth bell in the Crusader room entertaining M. Semuta, E. Perucci, D. Vischio, P. Knight, and P. McDearmon, and occasionally working on the Crusader.

ANNE SODINI, EDITOR-IN-CHIEF of the Crusader '63, realizes the creative aspect of yearbook work—to make something out of nothing.

bore fruit

"When's the next deadline?" queried an exhausted staff member. Editor-in-chief Anne Sodini allowed no idling in the yearbook room where she held open house every day of this year; but what other method could guarantee production?

Thinking in terms of the spirit of their class, the staff chose unity as the theme of this year's Crusader. Because they had chosen accurately, from end page to end page ideas fell in place, effortlessly (but with a lot of pulling at initiative). By Christmas—and after Anne had given several illustrated lectures on the horizontal line—a dummy book was completed. Immediately after the beginning of the second semester "picture days" were scheduled monthly and production began in earnest. Cropping tools, proportion dials, grease pencils, master layouts, copy, captions, headlines—all filled the air of the busy yearbook room.

Finally it was the strain of only one more deadline, and then Crusader '63 was in the hands of the printer, to be delivered in September 1963.

A VARIETY IN LAYOUTS and copy style is insured by a creative staff including: S. Sample; K. Harrold, M. Costello, C. Supan, L. Scherrer, P. Chapman, T. Branig-han, D. Zinkl, J. Kolodziej, R. Cerino; J. Kolodziej, J. Girardeau, W. Dealy, T. Fowler, B. McNeil, G. Mohan, C. Scialdone, E. Perucci, C. Ward, C. Gareia, T. Rees.

in the '63 Crusader.

WHAT WILL NEXT YEAR BRING? Sister Marie Marguerite and next year's editor Pat Donlon can't help wondering, even in the midst of this year's busy schedule.

KATHY KNOOP TELLS the junior members of the Crusader staff some of the gems of wisdom she learned at the CSPA Convention. Her listeners are: M. Coughlin, P. Joyce, I. Shishman, and C. Bruno.

JOEY CAPRIO AMUSES Genie Gillette but fails to distract other section editors—G. Dreyer, R. Silkey, K. Steele, B. Prestridge, and W. Shreve—from their work.

A TYPICAL CHARACTERISTIC OF A FRESHMAN BOY is a dislike for poetry. However, Sister Clare permeates the wall of meter and rhyme and creates a bond between poetry and student. Andy Giles, a lively young Freshman, is her living proof.

MRS. SWIRSKY'S LOOK OF DISCOURAGEMENT shouldn't deceive you. Teaching Juniors the importance of Emerson and Thoreau is really quite satisfying.

ALTHOUGH MACBETH holds the main attraction for Senior English students, grammar too is important. And, Mrs. Beck is not one to undermine the importance of grammar.

Basic mechanics

ALTHOUGH IT'S FRIDAY and Sister Marie Marguerite has spent the week wading through 100 Senior term papers she still maintains her winning smile so familiar to her Senior Class.

Every student at Norfolk Catholic is required to take four years of English. During these years he strives to perfect his skills of reading, writing and speaking, while those with particular creative talents are encouraged to develop these talents by contributing to the school's newspaper and literary magazine. All are building habits which will last a lifetime. A competent staff, composed of three Daughters of Wisdom and three lay teachers, strive through their individual and cooperative efforts to present challenging material at each level thereby avoiding boring repetition. Liberal use is made of film strips, recordings and paperbacks to strengthen the objectives of developing skills and inculcating habits.

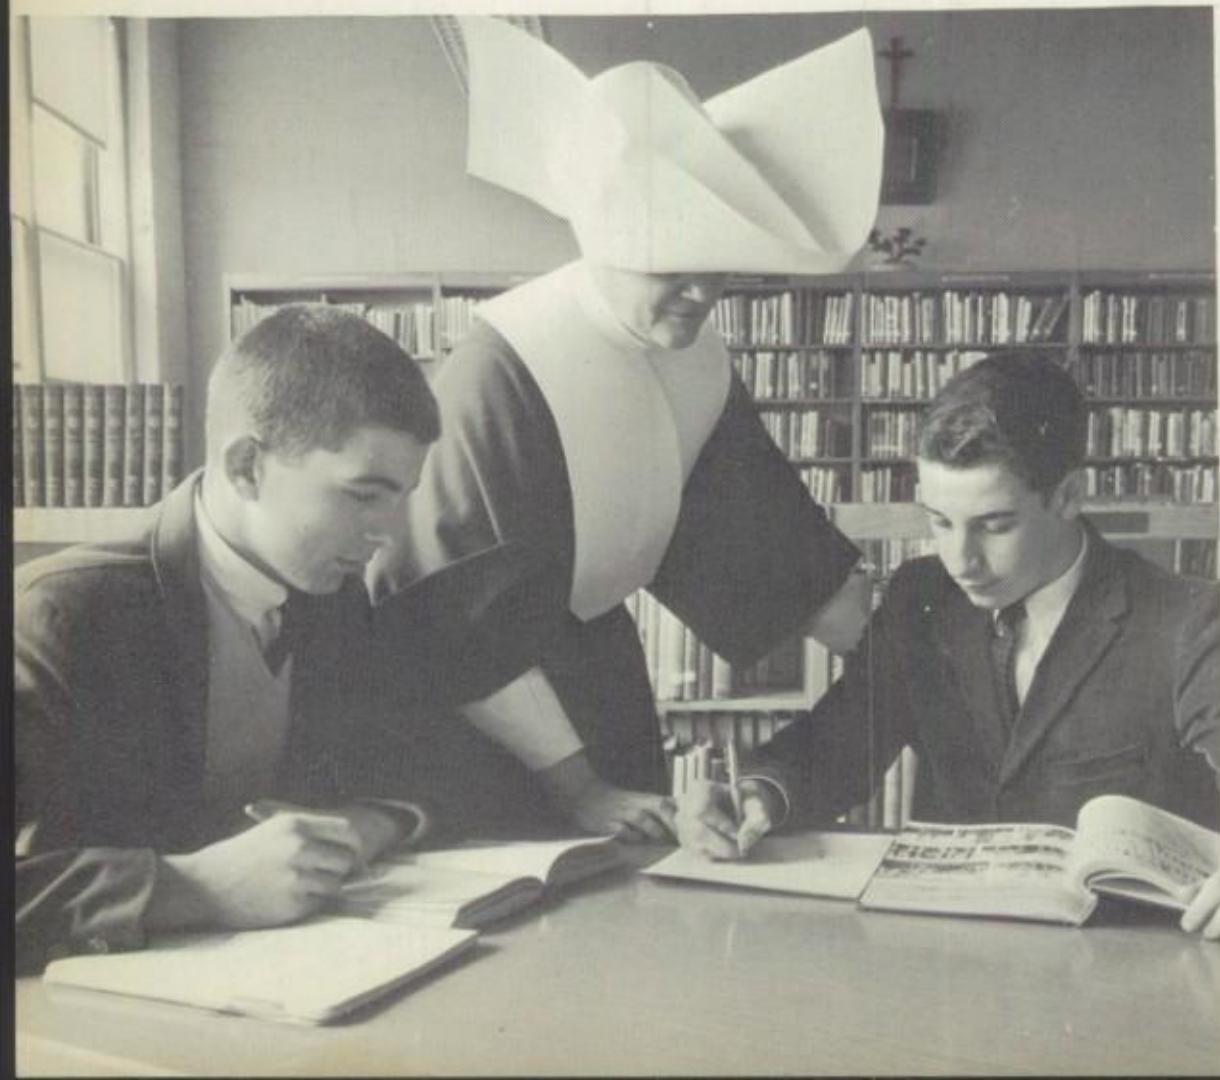

AMERICAN LITERATURE provides a wide field of interest for Junior's tackling their first term paper. Pat Donlon has discovered her field of interest.

WITH THE ACCENT ON TROUBLE, THE THREE WITCHES Joey Caprio, Carl Ward and Mike O'Brien strike a stunning blow for private interpretation in the Senior English Class's "off Broadway" production of MacBeth.

DENNIS HARTIG AND JIMMY MEATH find writing an English theme isn't quite as hard as they imagined now that Sister Ruth has familiarized them with some of the library's tools.

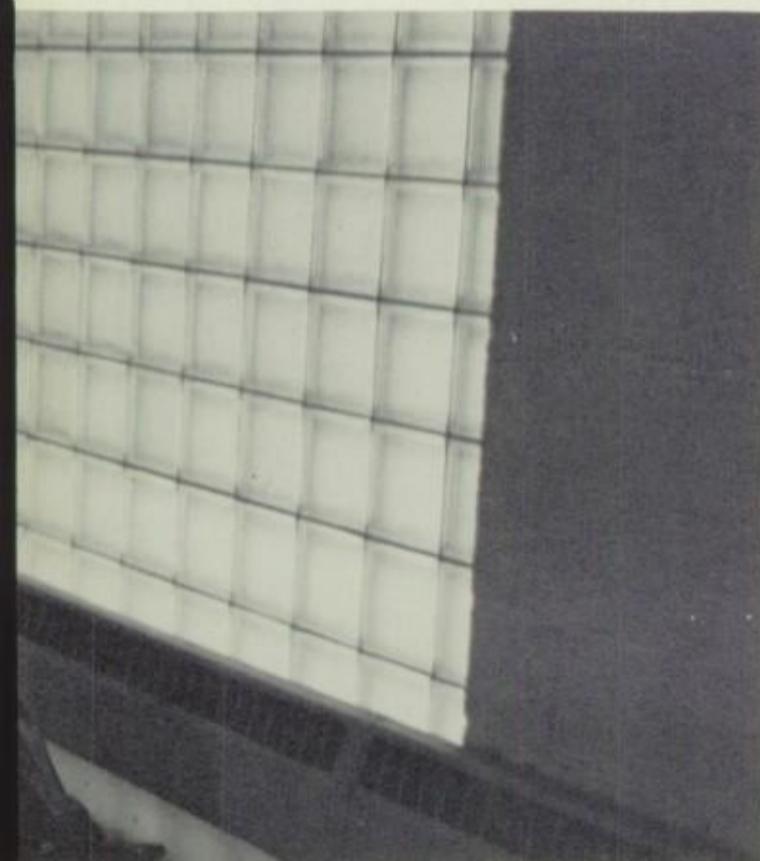

AN AVID FAN is first of all an English read she must set an example. Although Paul's basketball game.

BESIDES SCHEDULING SENIOR ACTIVITIES, okaying yearbook layouts, and teaching her own English classes, Sister Marie Marguerite must approve the plans of the other English teachers. Mrs. Swirskey and Sister Therese Mary have just received her "John Hancock".

and creativity

teacher. If Sister Clare tells her students to we do question her reading during the St.

Sister Therese Mary's smile doesn't deceive anyone as she backs out of Room 17 with Sister Marie Marguerite's favorite record albums for her own English III classes.

THE MEMBERS OF THE ALGEOMETRIGS: G. Herrick, M. Beatty, J. Weinbeck, P. Hollands-worth, C. Brothers, E. Mullen, M. Bittle; M. Mul- len, J. Cahill, H. Alm, M. Morin, D. Martinez, W. Thomas, P. Donovan, L. Flanagan, are caught in one of their "unformulating" moods.

The two Math clubs of NCHS, officially known as the "Algeometrigs" and the "Calculists", are co-curricular organizations dedicated to the promotion of an interest in mathematics. Most people when hearing the name math club, immediately think of the math that they are presently studying. They, however may rest assured that the Algeometrigs and the Calculists have no intention whatsoever of rehashing NCHS's math courses. Instead, the clubs supplement the math curriculum by providing an opportunity for original work in the field of mathematics.

The only difference between the two clubs is the fact that the Calculists study the development and functions related to advanced Algebra and Geometry, while the Algeometrigs do individual research on various topics in the field of mathematics.

THE ALGEOMETRIGS OFFICERS, Pat Flanagan, Dan Dorsey, and Bruce Cadotte hesitate as they ponder over new ideas for the next meeting.

F. DeLaura, M. Madeo, I. Stevenson, J. Marshall, T. Kennedy, L. McCall, B. Adams, B. Sellers, T. Maccioli.

religion learned is lived.

Religion is the essence of Catholic education. At Norfolk Catholic its importance is fully recognized in a four year religion program. Each student is instructed in the basic fundamentals of religion that he will need for his future life. Each year builds on the former, and in the senior year these fundamentals find their way into the life of service that each individual chooses to follow. Out-fitted with these four years of religion, the individual may feel free to enter any of the various walks of life with the knowledge that he has had the necessary training that will carry him through life to his final goal, perfection.

WITH HIS INSTRUMENTS of trade ready, Father Hamlet is prepared to confront the junior class with another syllogism.

"RELIGION IS A DIALOGUE," quotes Sister Mary Thomasine to her senior Religion classes while her two camera men, Daniel Dorsey and James Renner, listen attentively and at the same time make sure that they are operating the equipment correctly.

onto greater heights.

STEVE CALLERAN AND CHERYL BATEMAN officially started Courtesy Week in a skit presented by the enthusiastic Freshman class.

LEADING THE FRESHMEN in cheers for the mighty Crusader football team are four female daffodils: Sharon Reid, Janet Kinney, Theresa Maccioli and Kris Kleive.

THE NEWLY FORMED HOCKEY CLUB, coached by Peter DiDomenico, practices on their own private rink outside Room 19. Hockey Club members Ricky Shipp, Pete, Terry Fowler, Vince O'Brien, Richard Tynes, "Watusi" Nichols, Burt Prestridge, and Herbie Collins cast an ominous glance to all opponents.

"SCRUB-A-DUB-DUB, three men in a tub." This is the theme song of Roger Elliott, Joe Katoskie, and Jim Gmitter as they use some elbow grease on the windows during Clean-Up Week.

WINNIE SHREVE PENSIVELY NIBBLES on her pencil while she struggles with the National Betty Crocker Home-making Contest.

Excitement and expectation

DECEMBER

"TO HANG OR NOT TO HANG" is Kathy Harrold and Connie Supan's problem. This and the topsy-turvy Santa of Room 19 are all part of the annual Christmas Door Decoration contest.

MEMBERS OF THE DRAMATIC CLUB, Vincent O'Brien, Marc Lorson, Terry Fowler, Ricky Shipp, Mark McMullen and Winnie Shreve pause for a breather between acts of the Christmas play.

MARY JOY PARSNIPS, alias Merri Lawler lets the student body in on all the latest school gossip during another fun-filled pep rally at the opening of basketball season.

JAY MAY AND GAIL EMOND take the center of the court after having been chosen Mr. and Miss School Spirit due to their active participation at all school functions.

The Christmas spirit was evident everywhere. Posters for the Christmas Dance sported bright red and green figures. The brilliant colors displayed by the students emanated yuletide cheer. The season was climaxed by the annual Solemn High Mass.

"Visions of sugar plums danced in the heads" of the students at the Kandy Kane Kaper. Although delayed by snow until January, the students nevertheless were able to re-capture the season's spirits.

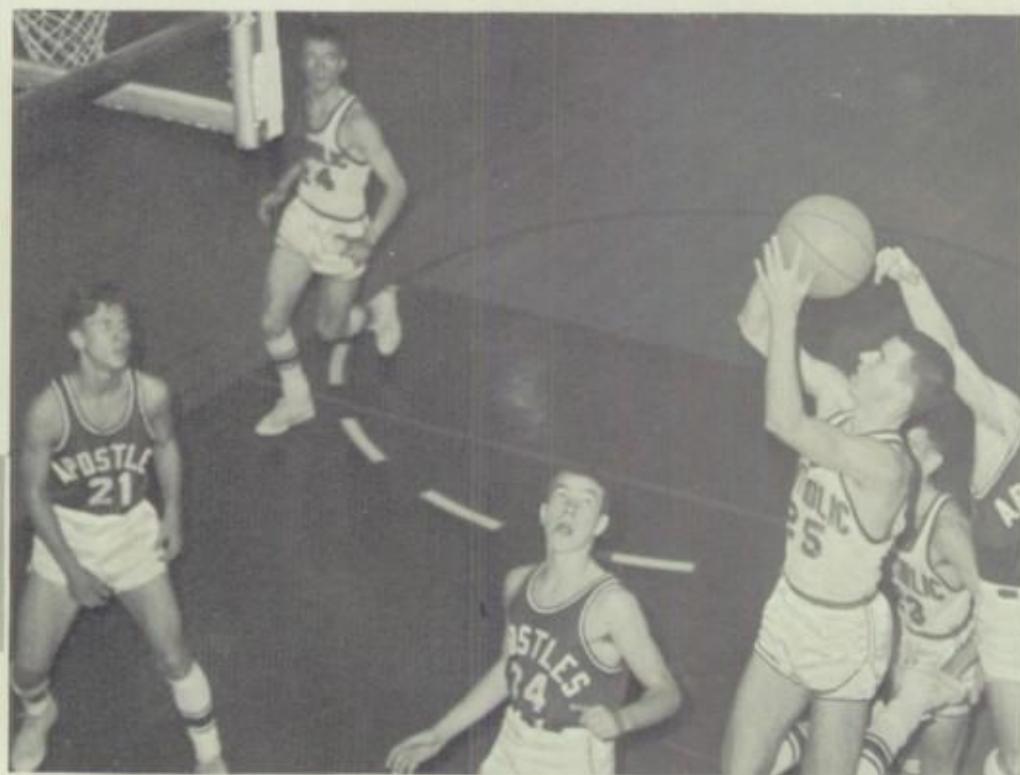

Weeks and weeks of planning and scheming resulted in the mass student migration to Richmond for three days of wine, women, song, and oh yes, basketball. With everyone backing them up, the girls won the championship for the fourth consecutive time and the boys captured the consolation title.

CATHOLIC'S J.V. BASKETBALL TEAM finally gets the court. Left to right: P. Lynch, mgr., J. Greene, K. McDaniels, B. Prestridge, P. Braun, J. Meath, T. Finn, S. Matika, J. Falls, M. Zeher, S. Caleran, D. Hartig, F. Booth, G. McNiff, J. White, mgr.

Athletically speaking, NCHS's future rests squarely on the shoulders of the J.V. teams. This year, both teams managed to hold their own throughout rigorous seasons. The junior basketball players netted a 9-6 record, while the young gridironers salvaged their season by winning their last game.

Besides upholding NCHS's athletic standards, both teams displayed the sportsmanship character of Catholic High. Their accomplishments reflect the determination and spirit that make these boys fine prospects for varsity careers.

MRS. FITZPATRICK discusses some new cheering techniques with Kathy Hunter, captain of the J. V. Cheerleaders.

In the year 1961 Norfolk Catholic High saw the appearance of two new organizations on her premises: the Pep Club and the J.V. Cheerleaders. They were accepted with great enthusiasm, and many joined the Pep Club while numerous girls tried out for J.V. cheering.

Now, two years later, these two organizations have grown in prestige and popularity. The Pep Club, working in conjunction with the Varsity Cheerleaders, adds to the much-needed support for our teams; while the J.V. Cheerleaders continually strive to foster, support, and build a greater emphasis on the importance of the J.V. teams.

All in all, both groups help maintain the necessary school spirit which demonstrates N.C.H.S.'s pride in all her functions.

WITHOUT RECOGNITION, Pat Fenessey and Andy Belleperaine work behind the scenes testing the stage lights to assure a successful performance.

Lights! Camera! Action! You're on . . . and the Dramatic Club of Norfolk Catholic High School begins another year. Each year the Dramatic Club presents to the student body a Christmas play and a series of one act plays. The able club moderator, Sister Francis Rose, devotes many long hours to the success of each production. Consisting of more than 50 members, the Dramatic Club is one of the largest clubs at NCHS. In addition to acting, the members participate in backstage work, lighting, costuming, and numerous other details, all of which play an important part in the field of theatrical entertainment.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB OFFICERS Mike D'Auteil, vice-president; Yolanda Rudiger, secretary-treasurer; and Gretchen Pohlman, president, discuss the script of the Civilization is continually changing and developing—the pace is fast, the challenge great. We at NCHS accepted this challenge. Faced with an acute teacher shortage, the administration decided to provide a new concept in teaching—educational T.V. One problem remained—who was to manage and operate the television equipment and broadcast the various programs? The Catholic High students again came through and on September 19, 1961, the Radio-T.V. Club, under the guidance of Sister Mary Thomasine, was born.

The purposes of the newly-formed club were not only the operation of the television equipment for Religious instructions but also the instructing of its members in the use of ham radios. As a result of the efforts of the Radio-T.V. Club, three members have succeeded in procuring their licenses as "hams", and for two years our religion courses have been successfully taught by air.

THEY MET THE CHALLENGE OF CHANGE. The Officers and moderator of the Radio-T.V. Club—J. Renner, treasurer; D. Dorsey, president; C. Marion, secretary; W. Wurzel, vice-president; Sister Mary Thomasine, moderator—learned the skills necessary for the transmitting of "live" religion to Norfolk Catholic's 800 students.

Day by day

If you need bus tickets, permission slips, report cards, aspirin, or a dime to call your mother, the place to go is the main office. It is amazing that there is any system at all with the variety of affairs carried on within its walls. However, under the direction of Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Curtin, order is maintained.

Once again the main office has been redecorated, signifying the arrival of a new principal, Fr. Hendrick. The difficult job of taking over a school faced him in September, but within a short time everything was running smoothly again.

"CAN I HELP YOU?" Mrs. Curtin offers her assistance to another perplexed student.

WHILE BALANCING THE SCHOOL BOOKS, Mrs. Murphy's favorite tune is "Thank Heaven for Adding Machines."

ON THE FIRING LINE OF PRODUCTION, Robert Galloway and William Austin are ready to perform one of the many services rendered by the Business Department.

"ALWAYS PREPARED." Sr. Regina, head of the Business Department is capable of resolving any dilemma.

The pounding of typewriters, the whir of busy machinery, and the business-like atmosphere combine to make up a truly indispensable part of Norfolk Catholic High School. This department, dedicated to serve the school in every way possible, is insurpassable when a "rush job" is required.

Along with service, another function of the Business Department is training the Future business leaders of America. Explicit skills are acquired in order to enable those expertly qualified to obtain a successful job in the business world of today, a most important field of industry.

FACING THE WORLD with a smile, the members of the Business Club stand ready to assume a big responsibility.

A HOPEFUL APPLICANT to the Naval Academy, Greg Dreyer checks with Sr. Marie on his qualifications, which proved sufficient to earn him a Congressional appointment.

TESTING THEIR KNOWLEDGE, French III students, using the lap boards acquired at NCHS through Sr. Marie's efforts, work on the National French Test in the auditorium.

Always there when needed, Sr. Marie offers her expert assistance to every student who comes to her for help. As guidance counselor she has become an integral part of the NCHS faculty. Her advice flows freely to everyone from anxious seniors nervously awaiting college acceptances to bewildered freshmen needing help.

The school as a whole has benefited from her expert scheduling and most especially from the innovation of new testing procedures that resulted from her interest and effort.

GUIDING 900 STUDENTS, Sr. Marie is kept busy consulting them and providing for them up to date educational facilities.

ALREADY CONSIDERING THEIR FUTURE, J. DiDomenico, M. Guille, and S. Haney scour Sr. Marie's pamphlet rack searching for possible vocations.

WORKING HAND IN HAND with Sr. Marie, Mrs. Iris Freda does all the secretarial work connected with the Guidance Department.

TOGETHER, Mary Kay Cowan, president of the Interclub Council, and Sister Marie, moderator, manage to iron out all difficulties.

The Interclub and Class Councils are important factors in achieving unity at NCHS. Through homeroom, class, and club representatives, each student has a voice in school functions. Their suggestions are presented and discussed at the meetings, resulting in harmony throughout the school.

Since today's communication devices bring us closer to other countries, we must develop our knowledge of these countries in order to use them. The Language Department of NCHS teaches her students not only the language of a country but also the customs and habits of its people. Besides excellent teachers, the Language Department, headed by Sister James David, also provides the latest in educational equipment: a language laboratory, film strips, tapes, books.

The Language Department's big project was International Week. For five days, students learned more about other languages as well as their own. On Monday, dramatic presentations were given in Latin, French, and Spanish. Songs and dances were presented Tuesday, and for the next three days, students visited the other language classes. Friday afternoon the whole department prepared various foods to represent their country at the banquet. All in all, International Week enriched the mind of every student.

Discipline

The Norfolk Catholic High School Athletic Department welcomed a new addition to their staff in October. Mr. Benny Kendricks became the third wrestling coach in as many years to lead the Green Graplers. Soon after his arrival Mr. Kendricks proved his capabilities by ably organizing the team.

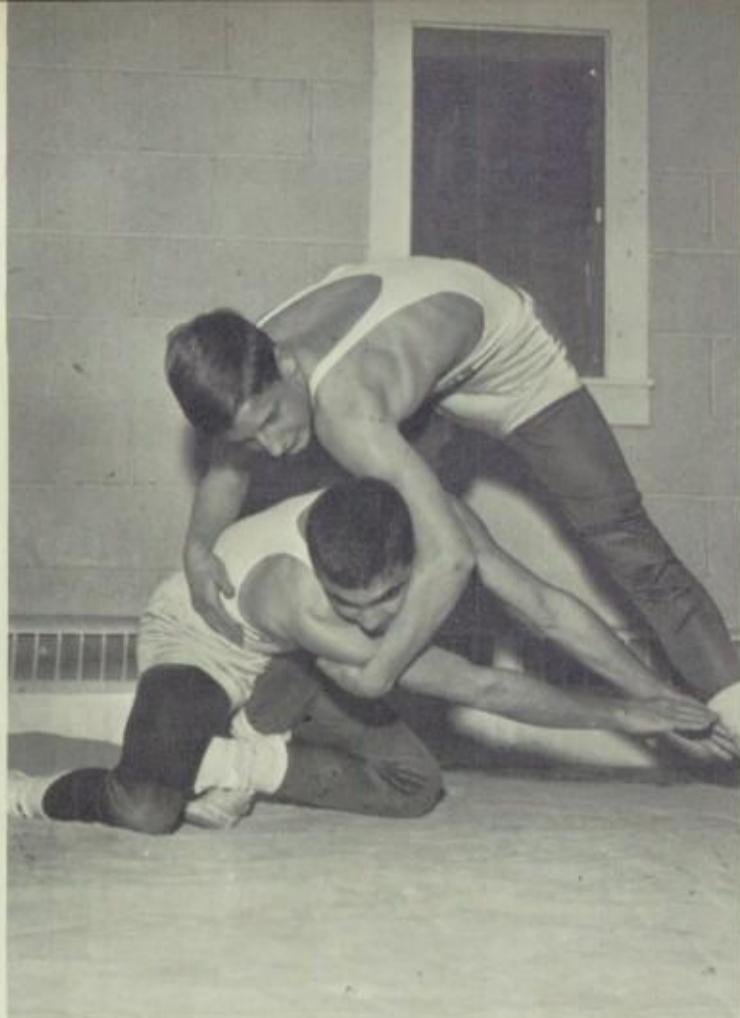

This years' team faced its toughest schedule yet, facing Granby, the perennial State Champions, Maury, Fredrick's, Virginia Beach and Norfolk Academy who all seemed to field their best teams in many years. In addition to these Wakefield was also added to the schedule, a team which has yearly challenged heavily for the State Championship. Against such stiff competition as this, however, the wrestling squad posted a commendable 4-4 record and finished the season with 4 wins in a row.

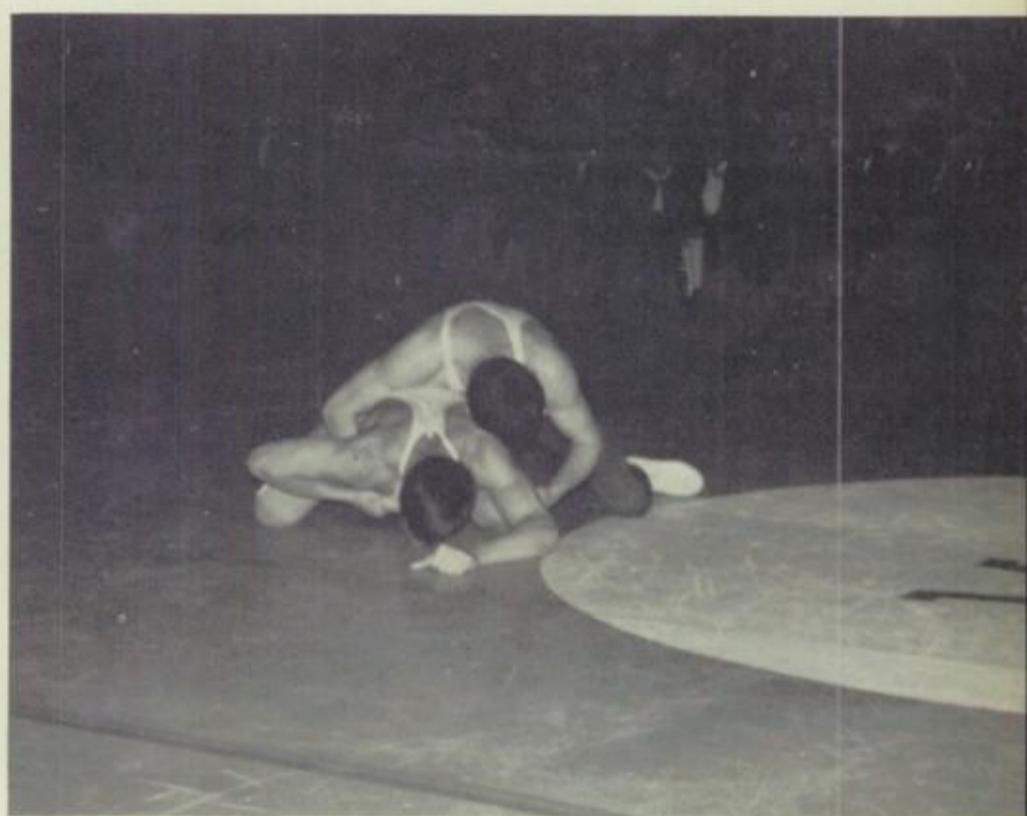

COACH BENNY "IVY" KENDRICKS displays a satisfied smirk after Catholics victorious match with Virginia Beach.

JOEY CAPRIO AND DAVE ZOFCHAK, co-captains, shake hands with the captains of the Wakefield Team.

LOU TINARO seems all wrapped up as Richard Sullivan throws a cross face on him.

MARK McMULLEN (why can't you tell who it is?) works hard to out muscle his opponent.

RALPH CERINO pulls back his opponent in hopes of a quick pin.

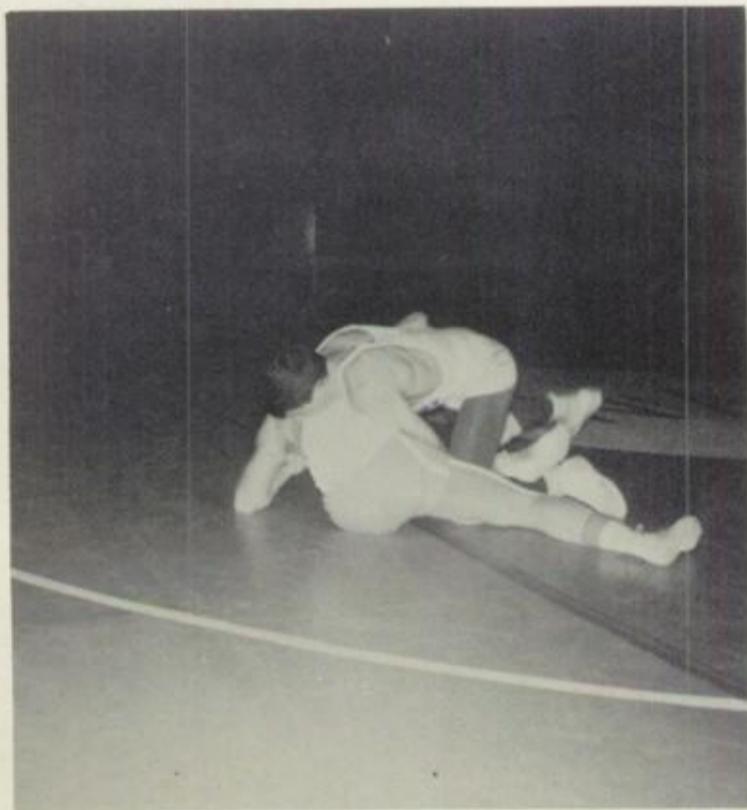

THE 1963 J.V. WRESTLING TEAM: H. DeVall, M. Beeham, A. Norton, J. DiDomenico, W. Harris, M. Foley, B. Bellis, M. Young, E. Owens, D. Bransfield.

LOUIS TINARO pulls just a little harder in an effort to gain a pin. He got it.

PUSHING AND PULLING at the same time, Jim Gmitter gives every-thing for a fast pin.

JAY LANE gives one last pant before giving up on turning over his opponent from Virginia Beach.

GARY DZIKOWSKI AND JOHN BACHMANN spend an interesting afternoon producing static electricity in the Physics lab.

THE OFFICERS OF THE Forensics Club are Kathy Werz, Harry Alm, and Kathleen May. Sister Mary David is moderator.

This year has proven to be an excellent season for NCHS's Forensics Club. At the Wilson Tournament, two of Catholic's outstanding debaters came through as the top-ranking negative team; they were Dennis Kakol and Marc Dzikowski, who chalked up first and third speaker, respectively. On to the St. Vincent's tourney, where John Cahill placed fourth in extemporaneous speaking, and Bill Wurzel followed as fifth.

The Junior Varsity displayed outstanding speakers at Norfolk Catholic's debate tourney; Karen Weller was named first speaker, and Marc Dzikowski was third. Norfolk Catholic ranked sixth out of seventeen schools participating. The Forensics Club's overall average was 5-3.

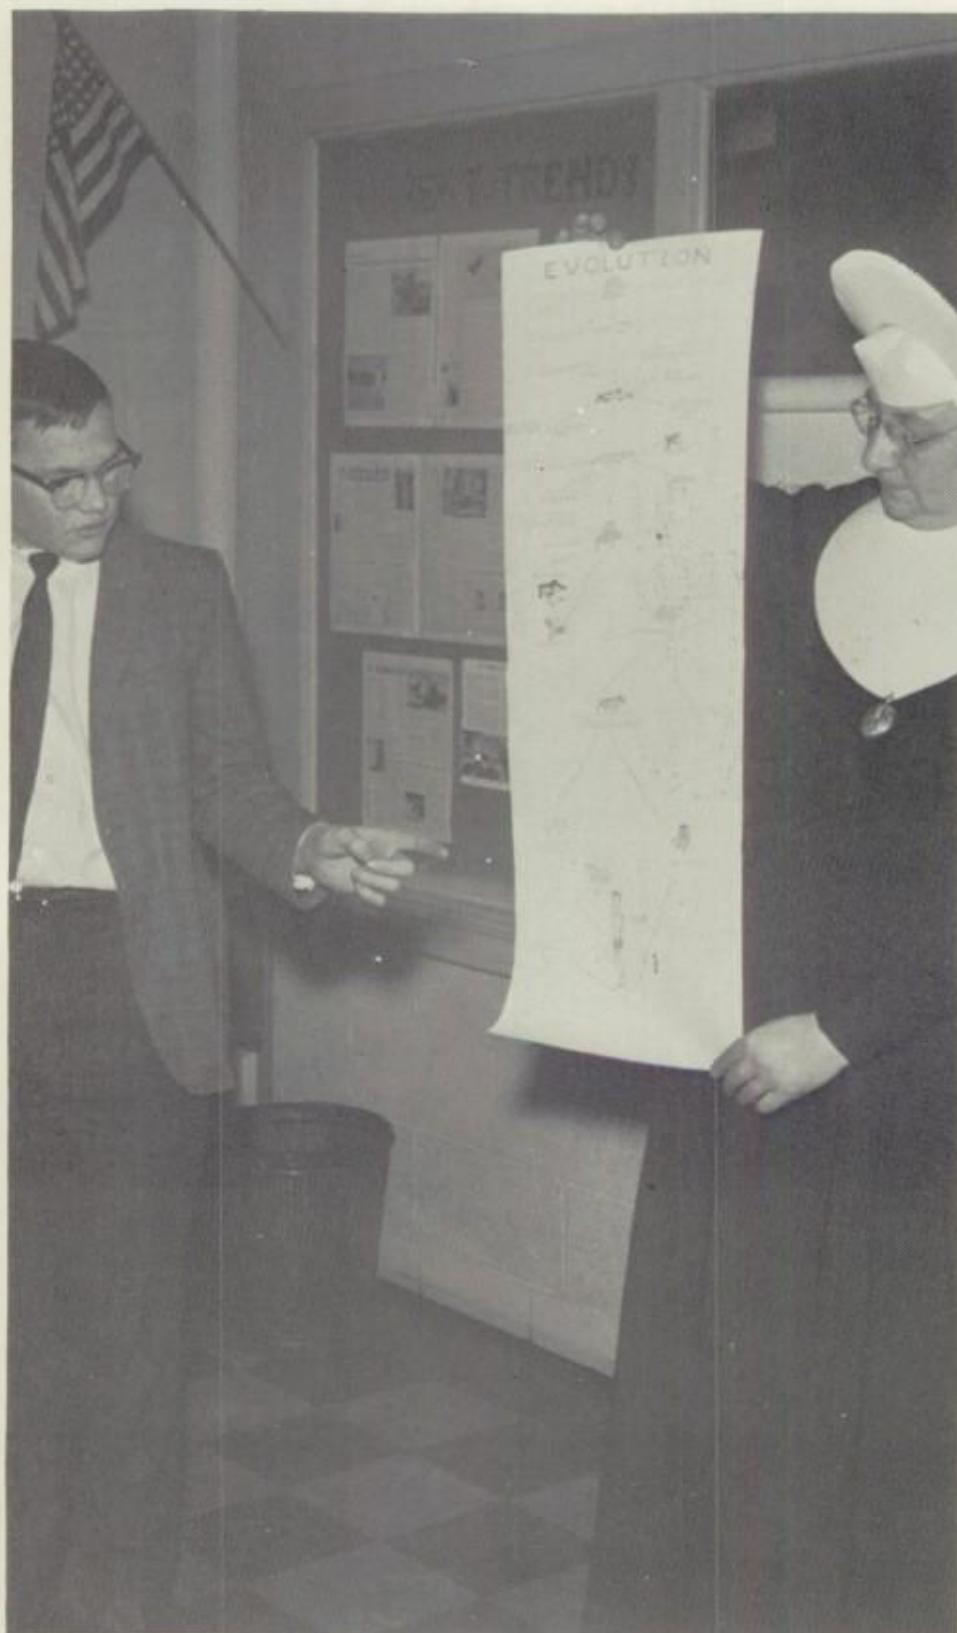

One of the newest clubs at Catholic, the Physics Club, also had an interesting year. Besides performing their usual experiments, the future physicists have also had the opportunity to work extensively with a Van de Graff Generator. The Physics Club is under the direction of Sister Montfort, D. W., who expects it to expand next year.

MEMBERS OF THE FORENSICS CLUB are B. Ferrari, J. Winebeck, C. Yoskolski, J. Lang, M. Dzikowski, B. A. McNeil, K. Weller, and R. Sequin.

MARK McMULLEN WORRIES about the present state of economic affairs, but Sister Mary David radiates her faith in Fort Knox. The economics class mirrors Sister's confidence.

go into the making

Social Sciences play an integral part in modern civilization. By probing the societies of other nations we realize the true worth of the precepts upon which America was founded.

The Social Studies Department at Norfolk Catholic High, under the guidance of Sister Francis Rose, imbues in its students a deeper understanding and better appreciation of the history and government of ancient worlds as well as that of our own America. Through class discussions, field trips, and interesting projects the students receive a broader outlook on various aspects of their own particular subject.

One cannot be a complete person without sufficient knowledge of the social sciences for they afford their aspirants an earnest desire to preserve the democracy which was so difficult to attain. The Social Studies Department has this in mind when it puts forth its curriculum.

MR. ORSINI PAUSES for an amusing comment during an otherwise serious discussion of the American Revolution.

MRS. HINES HAS JUST left her world history class with Napoleon's defeat at Waterloo and is now ready to tackle the American Civil War; her expression shows that the problem of keeping two cultures straight isn't really such a problem after all.

PREPARING A SOCIAL STUDIES CLASS takes much planning. Here we see Sister Francis Rose, the head of the department, Mr. John Orsini, Sister Joanella, Sister Mary David, and Mr. Mulcunry, outlining one week's lesson on Communism.

GLEE, that's what the faces of Mary Andrewlavage, Janie Wright, Phyllis Harden, Dede Bacon, Don Strachan, and Jackie Nemetz radiate as officers of that Club (that very Club).

of a well-rounded individual—

"CITY SIDEWALKS" ring with song as Mary Andrewlavage keeps the Christmas concert in perfect tune.

Bay — bee — baa — boo — booooo — ! Strange? Not really! That's only the Glee Club brushing up before they begin rehearsal in earnest: something about diaphragm muscles, I believe. Well, it certainly must help, because I've never heard them out of tune yet — not once!

Sister Mary Alice has arranged an active schedule this year — first the Christmas concert — that was beautiful, with drums, timbals, sleigh bells, and all! — and now Music Week!

Music Week is a novelty here at N.C.H.S. — and welcome it is. The halls were covered with posters and the assemblies passed all expectations.

First we travelled over the world through dances and songs — then we heard "Oklahoma", and some perfectly darling ditties about nothing at all.

Lastly we paid tribute to Mary, our own "Mother Beloved"; and so ended an unusual, enjoyable week.

"RAGS TO RICHES" is the look of student accompanists Theresa Maccioli and Frances DeLaura—but never fear, Frances is only waiting her role in the Christmas pageant.

EQUIPMENT AND SMILING PATIENCE
—the magic instruments at work for Sister Mary Alice, our Music Department Head.

SMILES, FROWNS, SHIFTY GLANCES—all center on Lynn Scherrer in sudden trust as the Glee Club tells of the poor "Drummer Boy" at Christmas.

CONCENTRATION—THE UNIFYING FACTOR as Lynn Scherrer leads the Glee Club through "Oklahoma" during Music Week.

The goal of the Library Council is to develop student leadership, student co-operation, and student initiative through library services to the school. The secondary purpose of the Council is to be an able and willing staff for the library. Through the efforts of Sr. Ruth, librarian, Mrs. Hall, and the Library Council, the library has become an orderly and useful tool for industrious NCHS students. Aside from their many library duties, the Council carries out various projects for the less fortunate. Among those for this year have been favors for DePaul Hospital trays and baskets of food at Christmas for needy families.

Ability and

"Good things come in 4's"—an appropriate slogan for the Crusaderettes, who won their fourth straight diocesan title this year.

Going into the tournament, the Norfolk Catholic girls, coached by Mrs. Angie Fitzpatrick, carried a 19-2 record. A previous defeat at the hands of St. Paul's had created doubt in some minds, but the Crusaderettes came back strong in the final game of the tournament to down the Saints with a score of 38-27. Cheryl Iantosca and Peggy Chapman captured two of the six positions on the All-Tournament Team.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick demands teamwork. There are no individuals and no "stars" on the team, but only 16 girls united to play the best game possible. Add to this two competent managers and you have the formula for success of the Crusaderettes.

JOAN KOLODZIEJ ATTEMPTS to break up an O'Connell game of catch.

MARY ELLIOT, A YOUNG CRUSADERETTE, TRUE to her heritage dares a St. Joseph's guard to keep her from her two intended points.

the will

"COME AND GET IT!" calls Louise Loughran to Cheryl Iantosca as she executes a skillful pivot in an attempt to baffle her O'Connell guard.

PEGGY CHAPMAN BRINGS DOWN more than she bargained for as Pat Howard and Joan Kolodziej rush in much needed assistance.

PAT HOWARD, BACKED UP by Cheryl Iantosca, leaps high to block a possible two points for the Saints, while Bobbie Boone and Joan Kolodziej stand ready to give rebound aid.

to win

IN THE SEMI-FINALS against St. Gertrudes, Cheryl Iantosca and Peggy Chapman attain high altitudes to keep possession of the ball.

BOBBIE BOONE IS DETERMINED to put that ball through the net regardless of a valiant effort by an O'Connell opponent.

PEGGY CHAPMAN, IGNORING D. J. opposition, lofts the ball over the rim, while Cheryl Iantosca and Sandra Sample maneuver for position under the boards.

A PENSIVE MOMENT occurs for the Crusaderettes, as Coach Fitzpatrick gives encouragement and last minute instructions.

With the month of May came the birds, the bees, and . . . the end of school.

The climax of the month arrived with the visit of Fr. Robert French, the first graduate to be ordained, and Sr. Clotilde, past vice-principal of NCHS and now principal of St. Mary's Academy, Alexandria.

Fun, hard work, and frolic resulted in the Spring Musicale. The freshmen, under the direction of Sr. Mary Alice, presented a travelogue with the dancing of Nancy Bean and Cheryl Brothers providing a classical influence.

The student body worked itself into high gear by the end of the month, as the chant of "Nine months down, one to go" echoed through the halls.

FRANCE'S CONTRIBUTION to the Freshman Travelogue, Nancy Bean, gives her rendition of "The Dance of the Sugar Plums."

A MEMORABLE evening draws to a close as Blair Bellis and Pat Knowlton with Tony Zontini and Cherie Thatcher enjoy the last dance of the night.

SHOWING HIS FORM, George Wilson clears the bar at 11 feet, 6 inches, his best for the season.

In the course of the 1962-1963 season, the Norfolk Catholic Cindermen established two state records and tied one, broke one Pilot Relay record and won another event, and acquired 21 medals for individual competitors. All this proves again as in the past the superb athletic abilities and high competitive spirit of the boys who devote their time to this exhausting but rewarding sport.

CO-CAPTAINS R. Shipp and L. Richard led the Catholic Cindermen in attaining an unblemished record.

In today's world the study of science is the key to the future. To keep pace with the ever-changing world of the unknown, our Science Department works with the latest equipment and gives the student the best basic knowledge of chemistry, physics, physical science, biology, and earth science available on the high school level. Through informative classes and interesting lab periods, the findings of science are unfolded to the students here at NCHS, enabling them to open the door to the future in this Scientific Age.

LEARNING THE INTRICACIES of sound by studying that perfect instrument, the human ear, is just one of the many interesting facets of Mrs. Gunn's physical science class.

IN ADDITION TO TEACHING ALGEBRA, GEOMETRY AND RELIGION, Sr. Maria also moderates the Sophomore Class and operates the book store.

DEMONSTRATING HIS MATH ABILITY, Harold Smith decides to agree with the book in proving this theorem.

CAROL WALTON CONCENTRATES on geometry while Mr. McIntosh concentrates on photography.

IN ADDITION TO teaching Modern Math and geometry, Sister Agnes Walter devotes much of her time as Treasurer of School Activities to the unenvious task of balancing the books.

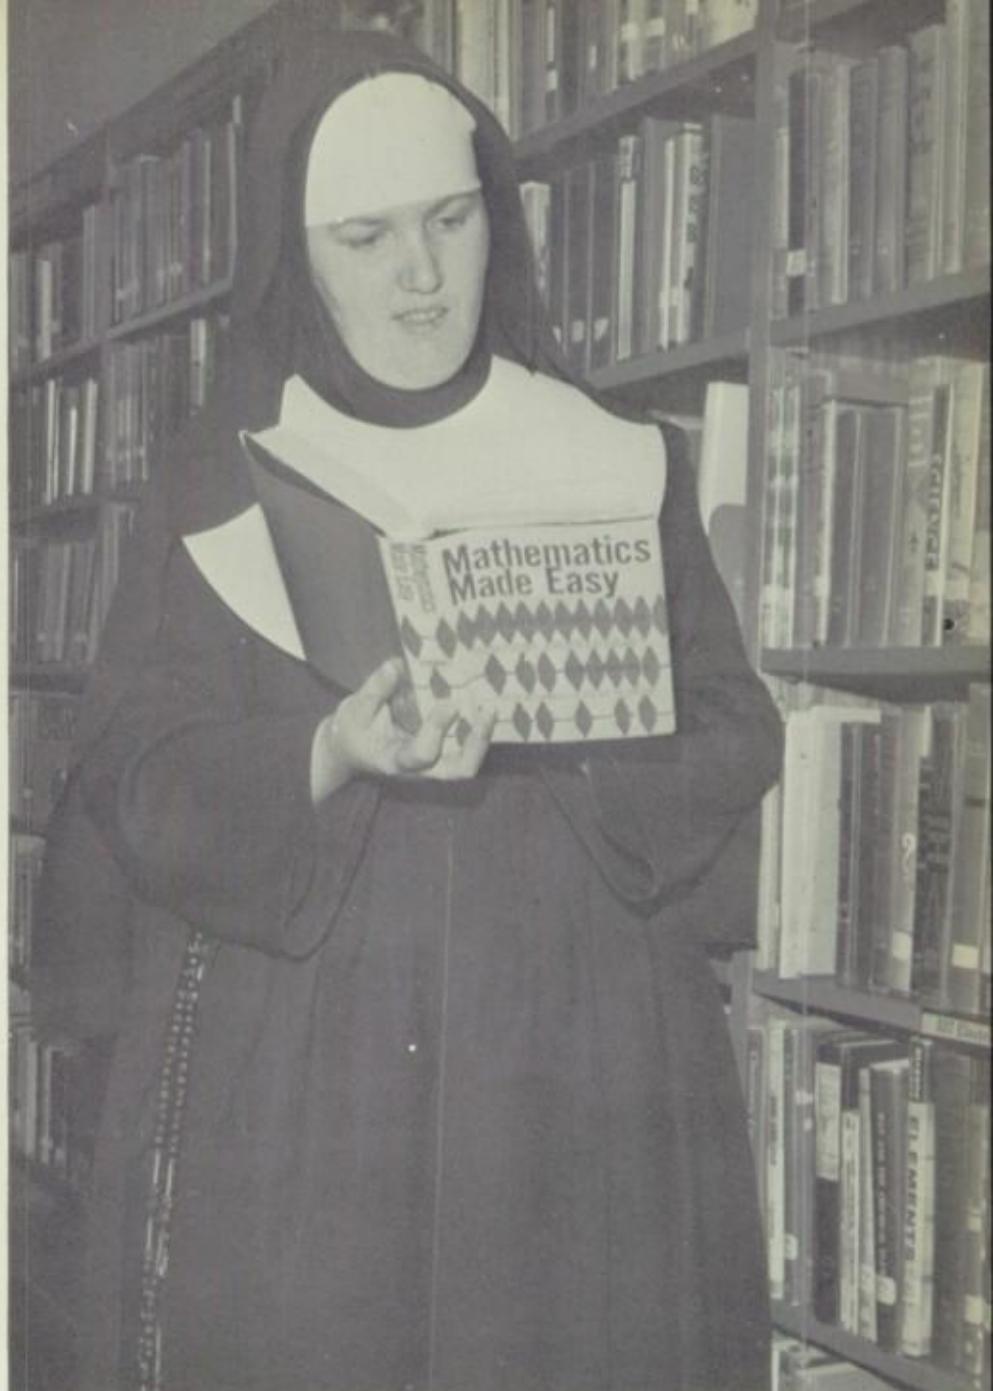

The students of Norfolk Catholic High School are fortunate to have an ample field of mathematics from which to choose. After completing the two year minimum requirement, many continue to study Algebra II or Advanced Math. In whichever field they choose, "math scholars-to be" learn the logic and practicality of math. With such an infinite supply of knowledge to be had, Crusaders strive eagerly toward their goal. Their laborious task is eased by the use of film strips, which clarify the "how's and why's" of modern mathematics. The Math Department, staffed by the Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur, is headed by Sister Thomas Margaret.

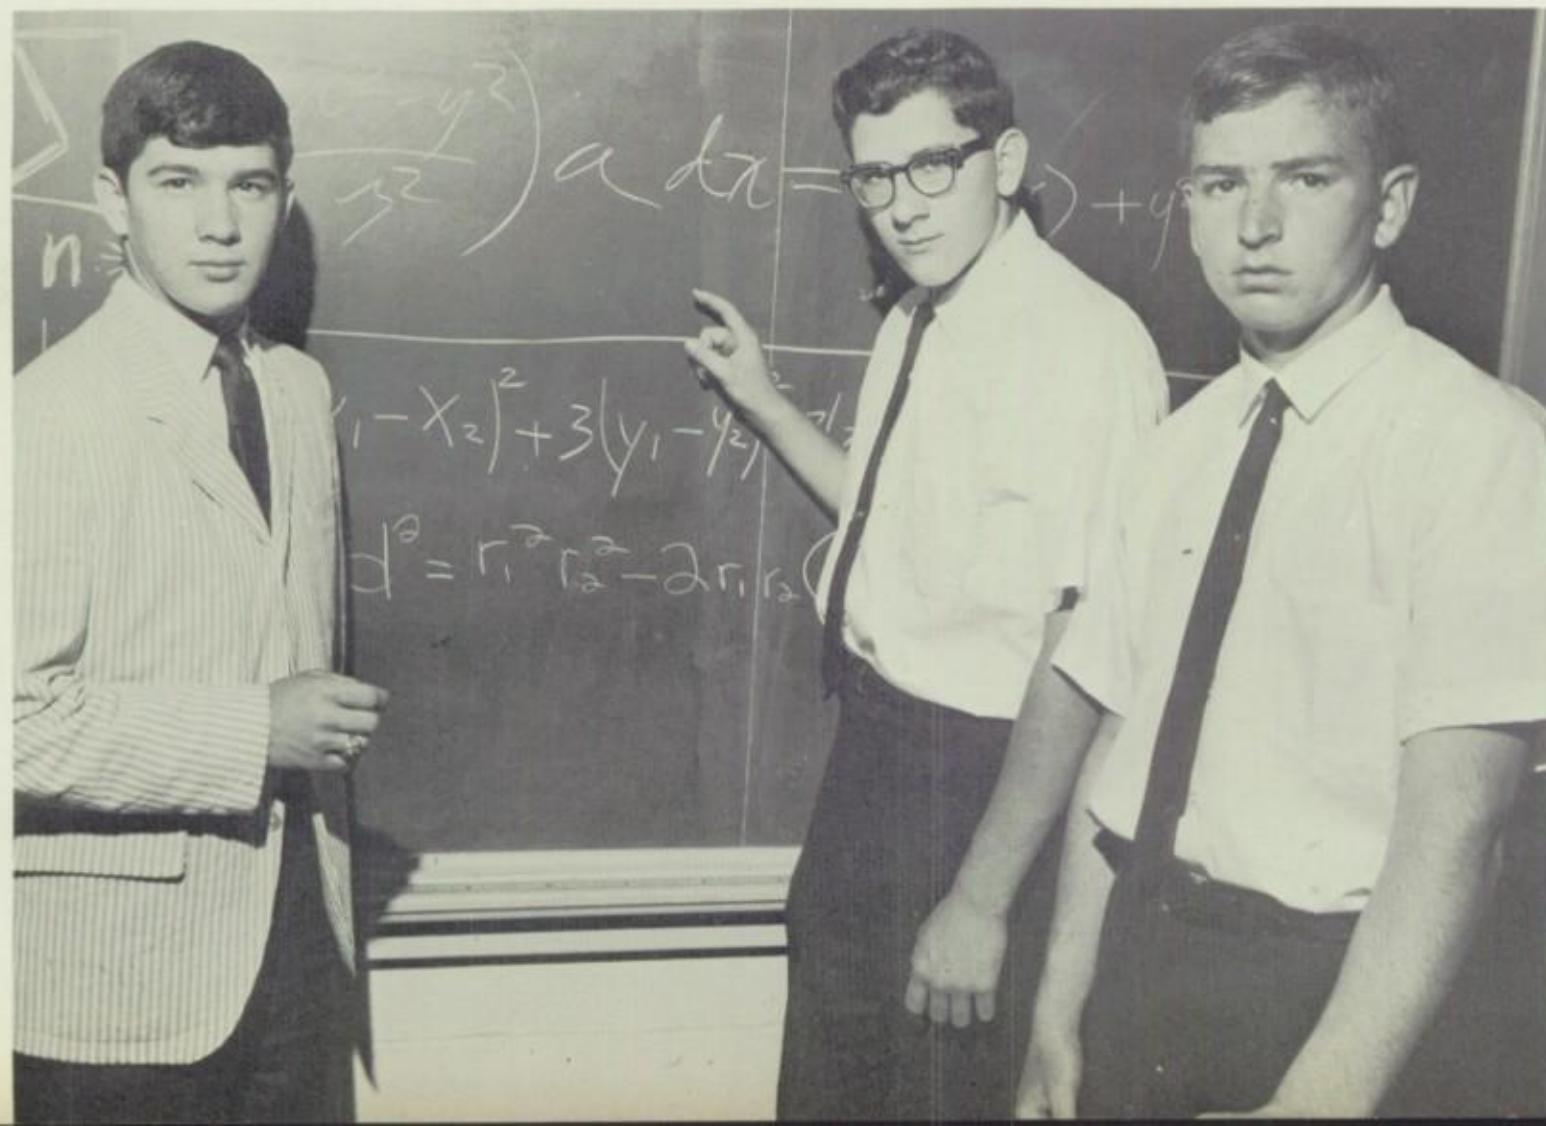

Here at Norfolk Catholic, all are impressed with the importance and necessity of the science of numbers; for this we owe a debt of gratitude to our math teachers.

THE FUTURE NURSES CLUB OFFICERS glory in the light of a job well done. They are Theresa Goodman, Lorraine Zelubowski, Sr. Marie, moderator, Gay Plate and Joanne Bittle.

Each year the Future Nurses' Club, guided by Sister Marie, in an effort to prepare its members for a career in nursing, sponsors a group of girls as nurses' aides at DePaul Hospital. Here the candidates undergo a period of actual hospital training concluded by an impressive capping ceremony. Besides their nursing projects, the girls fill a large basket for a needy family at Thanksgiving and perform other charitable works.

Although they receive little recognition, the Future Teachers do much to lighten the burden placed on our teachers. In addition, to this, the girls assist the teachers in other areas such as decorating bulletin boards and recording grades. Guest speakers, movies, and panel discussions provide a chance for the girls to learn more about the academic requirements and practical knowledge necessary for teachers in various fields of education. Whatever career these girls may ultimately choose, their services as Future Nurses and Future Teachers have proven invaluable at NCHS.

Never before has the need for lay participation in missionary work been so acute. In order to help alleviate this shortage, N.C.H.S. has two organizations which enable the students to take an active part in this program of Catholic Action. The Catholic Students Mission Crusade, through its three fold program of prayer, study, and sacrifice, offers membership to the entire student body presenting to everyone an opportunity to participate in its many projects. These include saving stamps, rolling bandages, and holding an annual bazaar, all of which encourage students to become more mission minded.

The Missionary Cenacle also has a program of work and sacrifice. Members perform voluntary works in their parishes, such as supervising nurseries and giving religious instructions. Each of these clubs in its own way helps to spread the knowledge and influence of the Catholic Church.

MARY KAY COWAN AND ALICE OHMER get last minute instructions from their moderator Sister Mary Thomasine before their next Missionary Cenacle Meeting.

THE 1963 TENNIS TEAM: K. McDaniel, P. Stant, M. Dzikowski, D. Martinez; J. Zoby, R. Prestridge, W. Dealy, D. Solomon, D. Zofchek.

Although relatively new to Norfolk Catholic, swimming, due to its enthusiastic reception, enjoyed a very successful second year as a school sport. The NCHS Mermen attained a record blemished only by defeats at the hands of Granby High, an established power which has won the city swimming championship every time it has been contested. Since several promising underclassmen are included in its ranks, the swimming team has a "bright look for '64".

The tennis team, also in its second year at Norfolk Catholic, suffered from the loss of its most outstanding players in 1962. However our nine "netmen", by dint of long hours of practice, salvaged their season. With a majority of this year's players remaining, the tennis team has a good start on building up to become a major sport at Norfolk Catholic.

JANE SERVONSKY, KATHY MARTIN, Gail Edmonds, and Carol Green display interest in criticisms of Terry Fowler and Will Dealy on pages of the Defensor.

This has been a year of changes at Norfolk Catholic High School. We have seen the passing of an old administration and the beginnings of a new one. We have seen some teachers leaving and new ones replacing them. One of these newcomers, Mr. John Orsini, has entered Catholic High with new ideas and a new spirit. Mr. Orsini has successfully carried this spirit into the production of the school newspaper, The Defensor. Under his tutelage a complete reorganization has taken place, resulting in a more efficient and orderly paper. This reorganization however, has affected not only methods of production but also the personnel and policies in connection with its publication.

The 1963 Crusader baseball team was one of the best in the school's history. The record contains victories over such teams as Granby, Barry Robinson, and our greatest rival, Benedictine.

The success of the team was the result of good pitching and clutch hitting. The pitching chores rested on the strong arm of L. Ewald, who was backed up by W. Pascarosa, M. Zaher, and M. Germano. The Crusader batters displayed a very potent attack with seven of the starters hitting one or more home runs. The leading sluggers on the team were T. Zontini, and C. Ward, while the best batters were R. Miller and D. Miller.

The outlook for the 1964 team is very bright; only two starters, seniors C. Ward and C. Hartig, will be lost, and such players as M. Ullanich and R. Gambardella are ready and able to replace them.

MRS. FITZPATRICK, CHERYL IANTOSCA AND PAT HOWARD rule the annual Varsity Club meeting with an iron hand.

The purpose of both the Monogram Club and the Varsity Club at Norfolk Catholic High is to provide a means of uniting the athletes of the school and giving them due recognition for their labor. The Monogram Club sponsors varied programs throughout the year, all of which either benefit the athletes themselves or the athletic program here at N.C.H.S. The Varsity Club, not an active participant in school affairs, consists of the members of the Girls' Varsity Basketball Team and functions as an honorary organization.

MARY KAY COWAN, SANDRA SAMPLE, and Diana Wise, three of the Seniors who produced the Honor Society assembly, take their "pause that refreshes" after a hectic week of preparation.

BETTY ANN McNEIL FINDS that signing the ledger can be tricky when dazed by the unexpected.

"Enthusiasm for scholarship" is a student's best friend. One working only with a mark in mind is not likely to become a member of the Meehan Chapter of the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools. "A desire to render service", stemming from a respect for others and a concern for their well-being can be stimulated by the example of a few. The members of the honor society strive to be that example. "Promotion of worthy leadership", a lifetime responsibility in American society, is carried out in the National Honor Society both in its choice of members and in the support given good leaders by its members. "Development of character" is the all important aspect of everyone's life. Recognition of good character is a primary function of the society. Fulfillment of scholarship, leadership, character and service, an achievement deserving of respect, is a function competently performed by the Honor Society of Norfolk Catholic High School.

JUNE

THE STARS IN THE SKY prove to be no match for the stars in Kay Horton and Pat Clark's eyes as they dreamily dance away the night.

in Achievement

Exams, proms, graduation, Baccalaureate and the last day of school . . . all these events compose the final month—June.

The days were short and harried. For the seniors June meant two things: the Prom and Graduation. For the underclassmen it meant exams and Awards Day.

“Pink Champagne” was the highlight of the Senior Prom held on June 1, at the K of C Hall. The evening was climaxed by the crowning of Peggy Chapman, Prom Queen.

Finally, the great night came. On June 7, 1963, 139 seniors graduated from Norfolk Catholic High School.

The month of June ends the school year. And yet, it also heralds a new beginning. It marks the entry of the seniors into the adult world, and the steady progress of the underclassmen toward the culmination of their adolescent years—high school graduation.

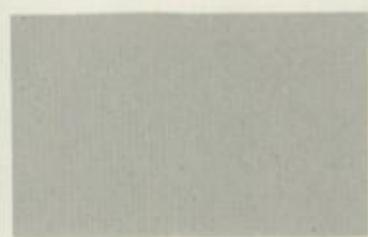

WHATEVER JOHN LOCKIE IS SAYING, it must be pretty funny. In fact, it must be hilarious judging from the expressions on Mike O'Brien, Pat Howard, Joey Caprio, Jennifer Stant, and Genie Gillete's faces, as they surround John in rapt attention.

TWO OF TONY'S CRONIES at the Three Pigeons were Matthew (Gary Dzikowski) and Meg (Genie Gillette).

BETS BOUNCER (Tonie Branighan) distracts the musician of the Three Pigeons (Louis Tinaro)—much to Tony's chagrin.

TONY LUMPKIN (ROGER ELLIOTT) and Constance Neville (Terry Rees) feign a warm and jolly affection for one another in the presence of Tony's mother Mrs. Hardcastle (Iva Lee Summer).

accompanies the end

THE SCENERY CREW with student director one time had changes down to thirty seconds. Members Kay Cowan, Patricia McDearmon, Janice Kolodziej, Dolores Gould, Beryl Graham, Joan Kolodziej, a

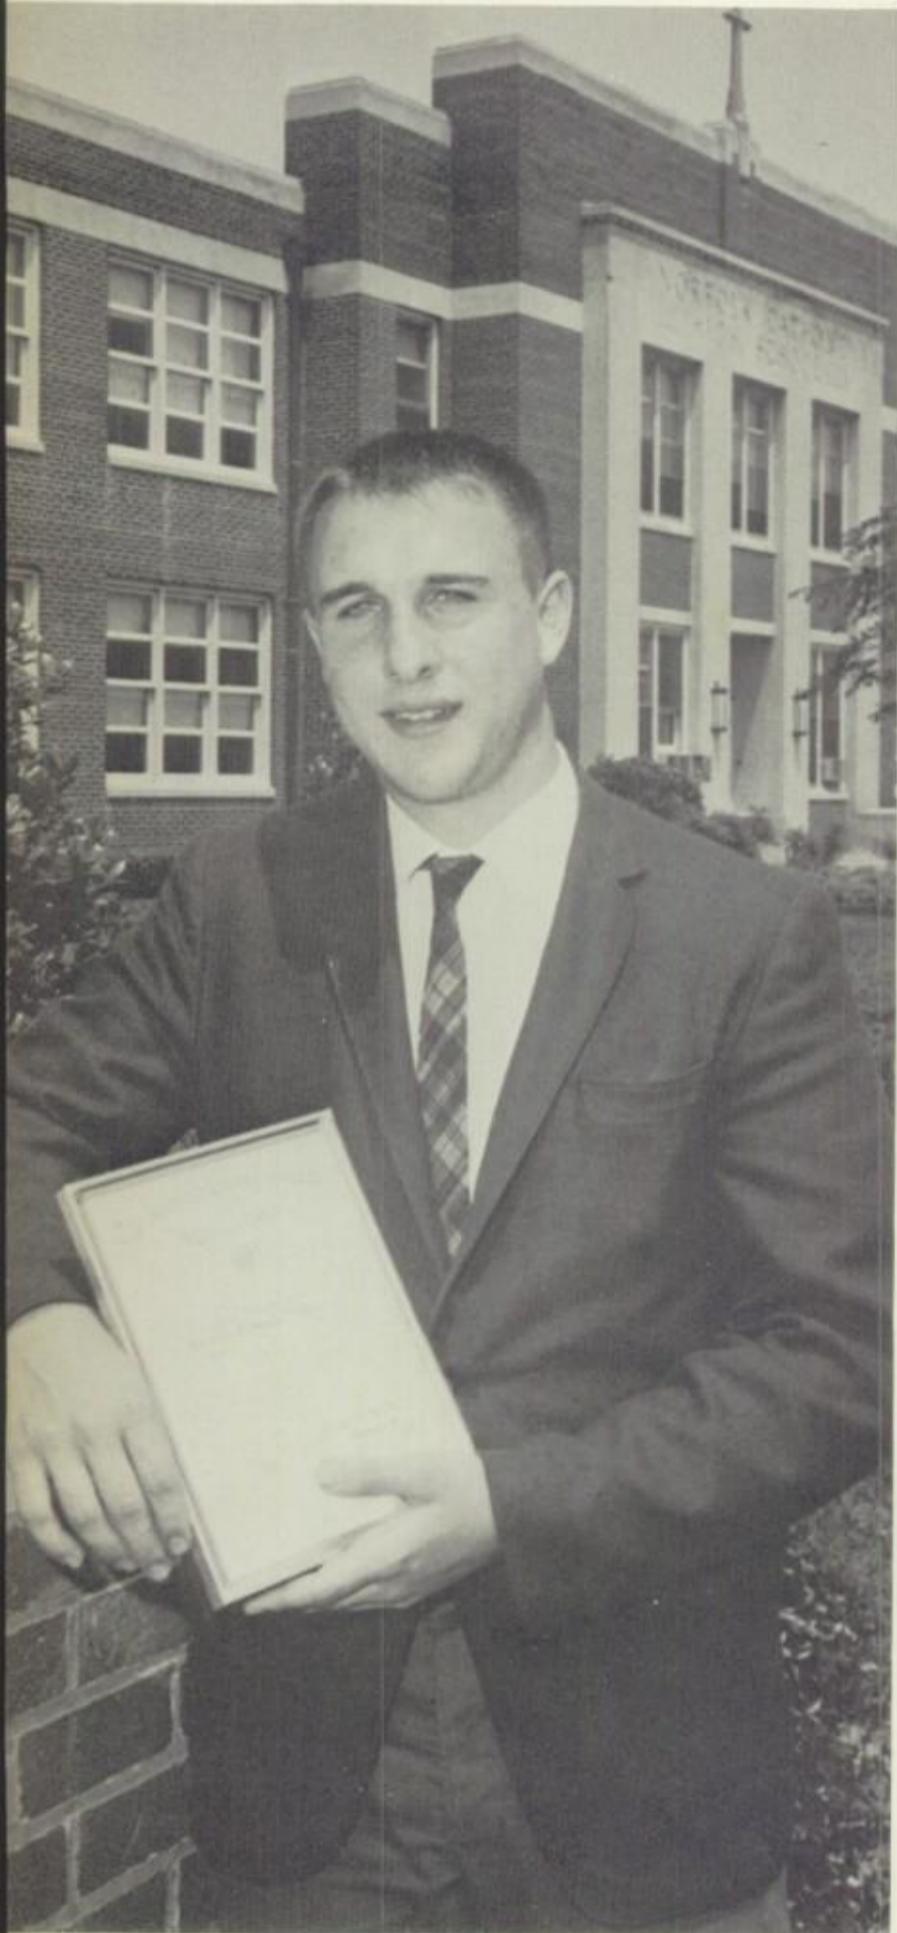

MR. HASTINGS (GREG DREYER) can't believe his eyes. That rascal Tony Lumpkin has really been able to make off with Constance Neville's jewels.

...nice and Joan Kolodziej at ers of the crew were Mary athy Harrold, Bea Hall, arlotte Muehlbauer.

MR. MARLOWE (VINCENT O'BRIEN) wants to be convinced that it's not difficult to speak to Kate (Connie Supan) now that she has resumed her role of Miss Hardcastle, daughter of the house. Her father, (Rusel Silkey) and his father (Will Dealey) demand their own proof.

JOHN BACHMANN, ACKNOWLEDGED LEADER of the Senior class, received the Key Service Award from the Norfolk Kiwanis Club and a certificate from the American Legion.

KATHY HARROLD AND JANICE KOLODZIEJ have received an activity pin for each of the four years they spent at Catholic High.

PEGGY CHAPMAN AND HARRY ALM in addition to other achievements placed high in the National Latin Tournament.

of another year—

HONORED BY THE KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS for their Catholic leadership by example were Mary Kay Cowan and Gary Dzikowski.

LUCKY THIRTEEN—the thirteenth graduating class of Norfolk Catholic High School files into St. Mary's Cathedral for the Baccalaureate Mass celebrated by Father LeFrois.

SISTER MARIE MARGUERITE, with the calm of thirteen years' experience, chats nonchalantly with John Tucker and Diana Wise as she waits for the last of the seniors to arrive.

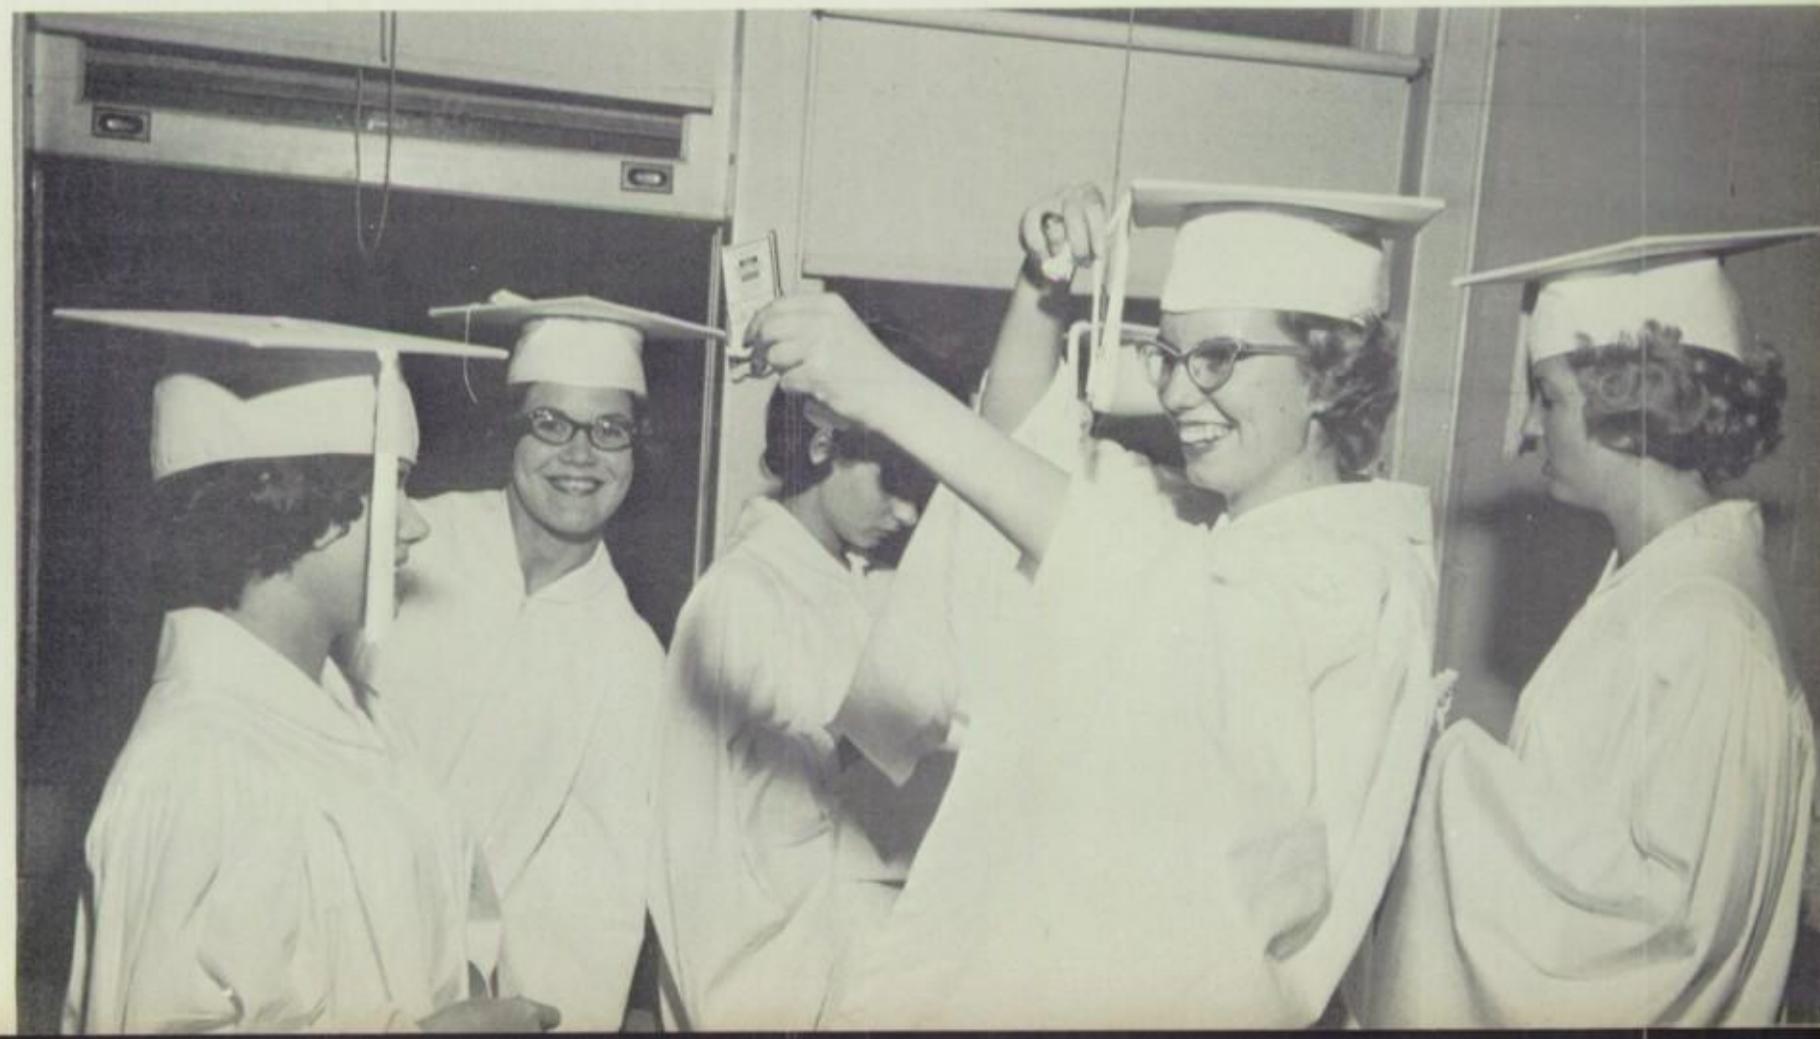

MARY KAY COWAN, vice-president of the Student Council, stands before her class for the last time as she elaborates on "The Marks of a Christian Society—Truth, Justice, Love and Freedom".

KAYE LUTHER AND KATHY EWALD lead the remainder of their class into the auditorium for the graduation exercises.

KATHY HARROLD TAKES A QUICK LOOK in the mirror to see if her tassel is straight. P. Knight, A. DeHart, Y. Rudiger, and C. Supan anxiously wait their turn at the mirror.

AN AIR OF SUPERIORITY is evidenced in Linda Ryan, Ralph Cerino, and Joey Caprio's expressions as they receive their reward for being the top salesmen in the yearbook drive.

WITH PAT DONLON AT THE WHEEL, Anne Sodini riding shotgun, and Kathy Knoop and Ildy Shishman bringing up the rear, these CSPA delegates prepare to take off for three days of fun, frolic, and conferences in New York City.

HAPPY-GO-LUCKY SISTER MARIE MARGUERITE, yearbook moderator, enjoys some of the leisure time which she didn't expect to receive, as the yearbook staff, under the direction of Anne Sodini, rolls along on smoothly oiled wheels.

SENIORS JOEY CAPRIO, Mike O'Brien, and Roger Elliot give a freshman some pointers on how to bring in the most money for the yearbook drive.

SURROUNDED BY YEARBOOKS of every size, shape, and color, Anne Sodini leafs through them in an effort to glean some new ideas.
